Theonlinephotographer.com – book reviews, blogs, camera reviews, photo articles

Fredmiranda.com – software(primarily MAC), forums, store, reviews articles - all related to photography – photo critiquing available as well luminous-landscape.com – forums, techniques, tutorials, workshops, etc.

Kelby TV – photoshop users Hosted by Scott Kelby (the Photoshop Guru) they have videos of numerous episodes showing tricks and tips using PhotoShop with a lot of humor. Sometimes I think they have way too much fun, but it's a great website.

Lynda.com – tutorials and video training on various types of software as well as techniques for taking good photographs. This one has tutorials on just about anything to do with computers: Photoshop all levels, Word, Excell, ITunes, etc. You can watch some for free but if you want to really get serious about classes it's $25 per month and you can watch as many as you want Bythom.com – website for Nikon users with user guides for most of the Nikon cameras. Site also includes some helpful hints about traveling to many different sites in the world.

Digital Photography School - has a number of tutorials, articles, lists of photography courses online, as well as information about cameras, and post production
